Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA

Art Unit: 2667

1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 5, 9, 10 and 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,548. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because;

Regarding claims 1, 2, 3 and 4, all the limitations of claim 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the present application are encompassed in claim 5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,548.

Regarding claim 5, 6, and 7, all the limitations of claims 5, 6, and 7 of the present application are encompassed in claim 9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,548.

Regarding claim 8, all the limitations of claim 8 of present application are encompassed in claim 10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,548.

Regarding claim 9, all the limitations of claim 9 of the present application are encompassed in claim 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,548.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 10-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Although the prior art discloses apparatus and methods for contention resolution as associated with a radio communication system wherein communication exist between a primary station and a secondary station, whereby the secondary station request allocation of random access channel via transmission of access preamble at one of a plurality of available time offsets and transmitting an access acknowledgement indicating whether the requested resource is available, they fail to teach or suggest time offset indicating the identity, bit rate and priority of a secondary station.
